Okay, so now Brasher law firm is doing everything.  They told me that they are the point of contact for everything and I should no longer send anything to Liberty Mutual.  I don't know, but I am guessing that they will tell you the same thing.

I gotcha...

I am leaving out of town this week for my sister's funeral,  but next week, I can meet Liberty Mutual at the house, sometime next week.

Well, I think it is Brasher that will send somebody out and not Liberty Mutual now.

Brasher said they will contact you.

Ok. Sounds good.

Where is Brasher out of?

Texas?

They have an office in Lake Charles and an office in Beaumont.

I have a question.

What is the best thing to say (or does it matter)?

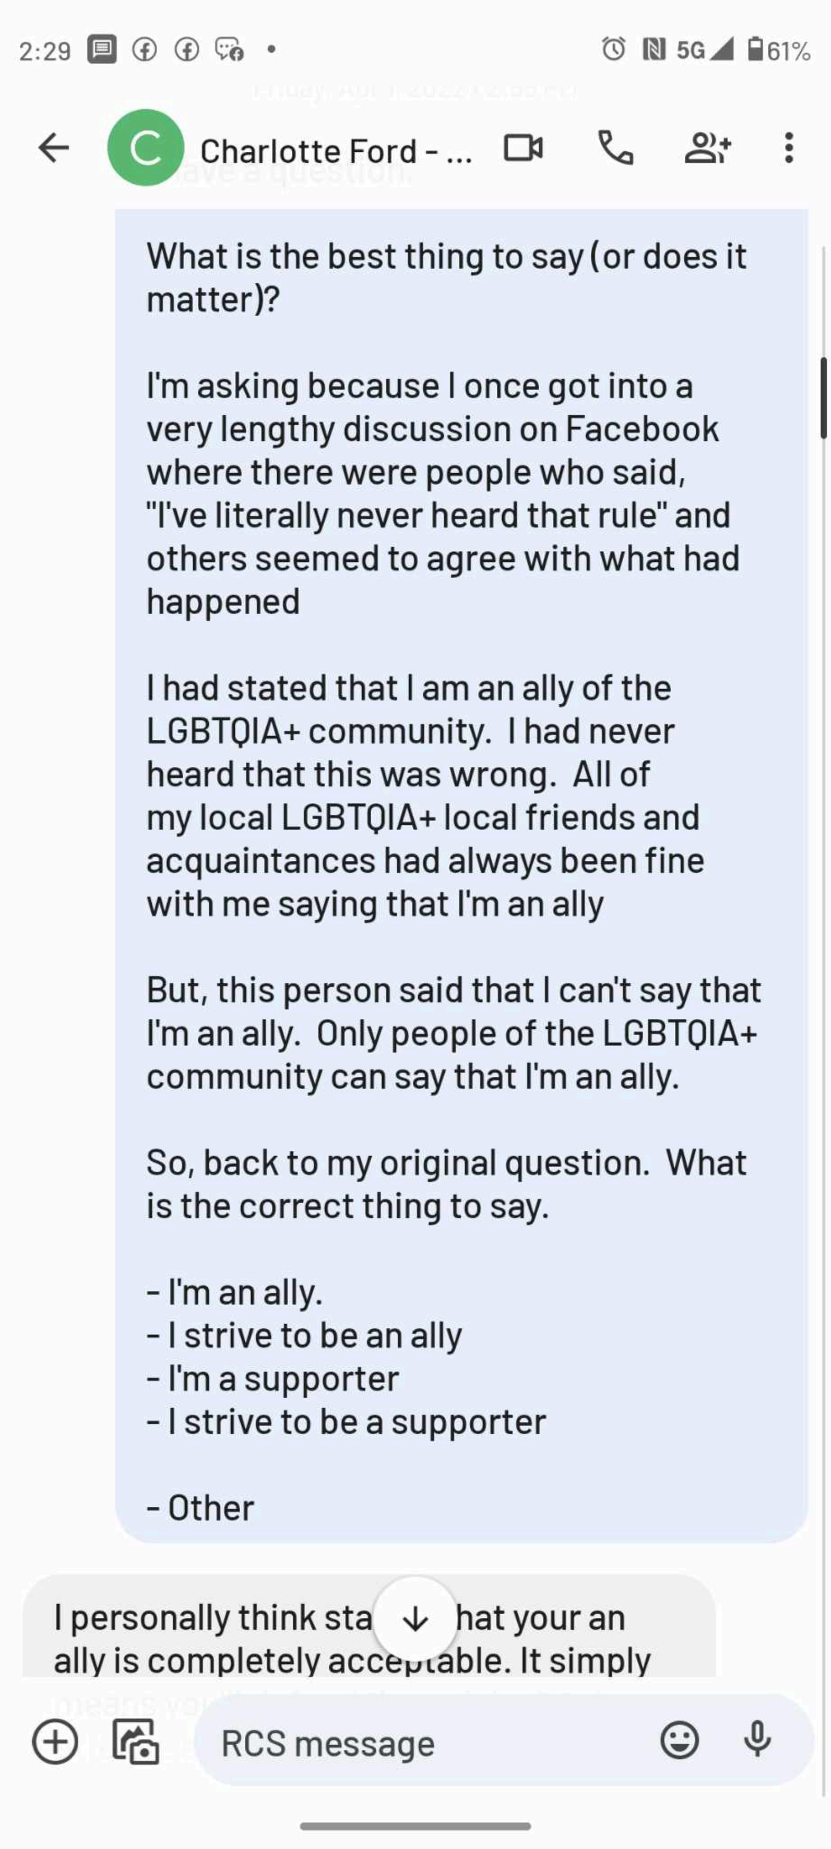
[1]



What is the best thing to say (or does it matter)?

I'm asking because I once got into a very lengthy discussion on Facebook where there were people who said, "I've literally never heard that rule" and others seemed to agree with what had happened

I had stated that I am an ally of the LGBTQIA+ community. I had never heard that this was wrong. All of my local LGBTQIA+ local friends and acquaintances had always been fine with me saying that I'm an ally

But, this person said that I can't say that I'm an ally. Only people of the LGBTQIA+ community can say that I'm an ally.

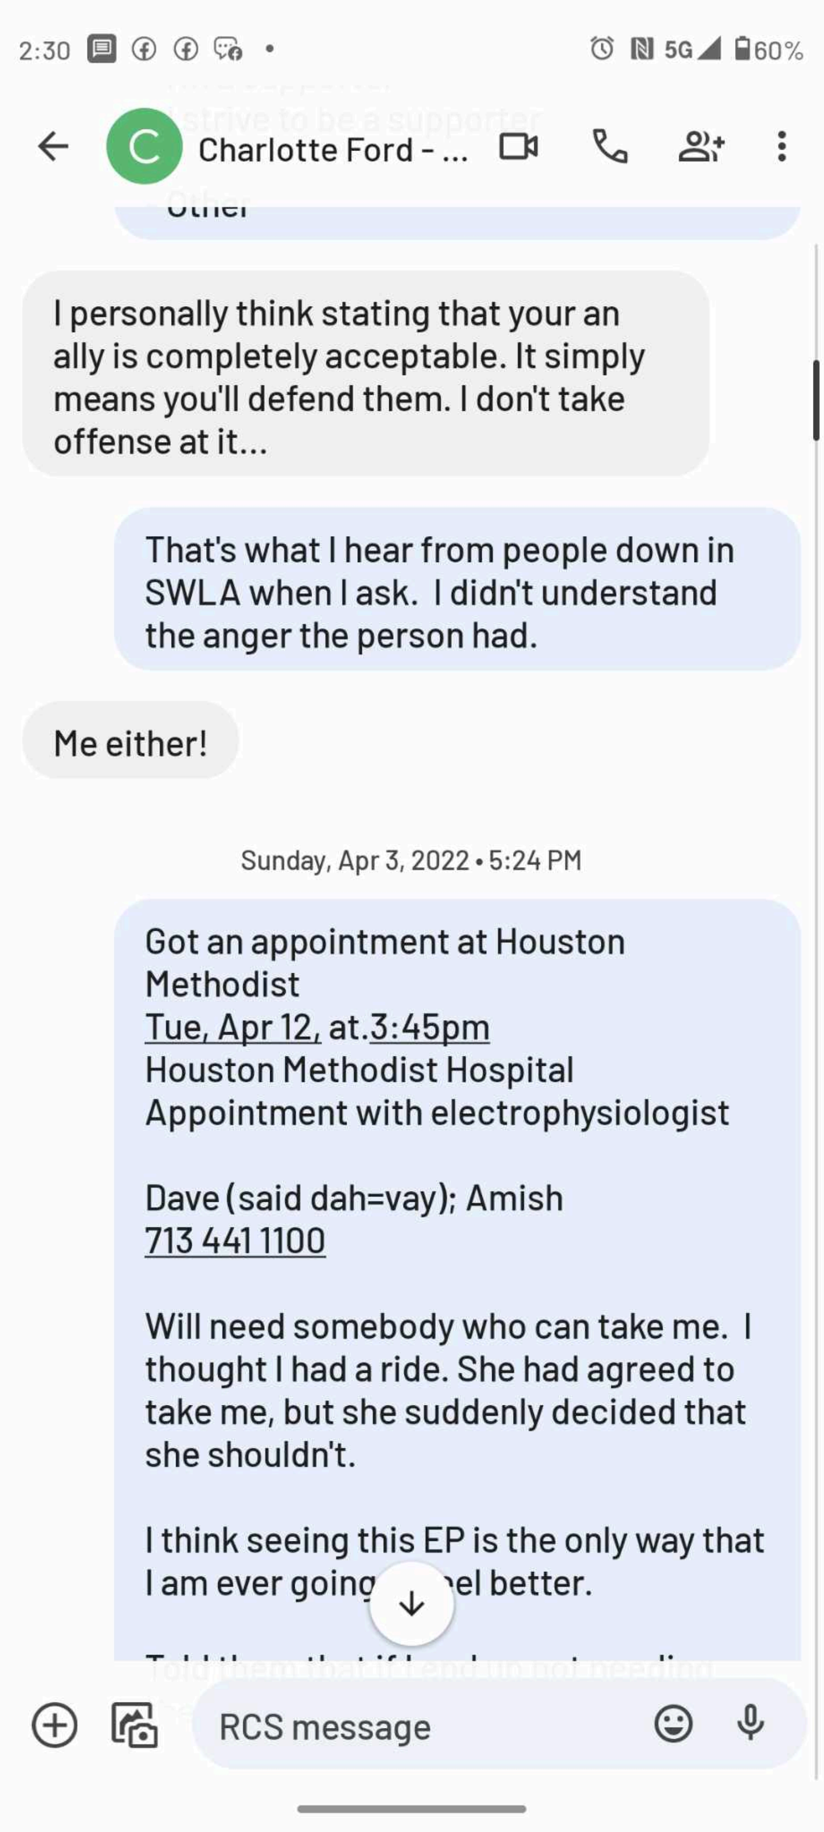
So, back to my original question. What is the correct thing to say.

- I'm an ally.
- I strive to be an ally
- I'm a supporter
- I strive to be a supporter

- Other

I personally think sta hat your an ally is completely acceptable. It simply

Bridget Ilene Delaney - Text



I personally think stating that your an ally is completely acceptable. It simply means you'll defend them. I don't take offense at it...

That's what I hear from people down in SWLA when I ask. I didn't understand the anger the person had.

Me either!

I don't know what being like that is like. And girls I mentored years ago were fairly good. One of them ended up getting pregnant when her mom didn't pay attention to her and also decided I shouldn't be around her much. Still, praying. That has to be very frustrating.

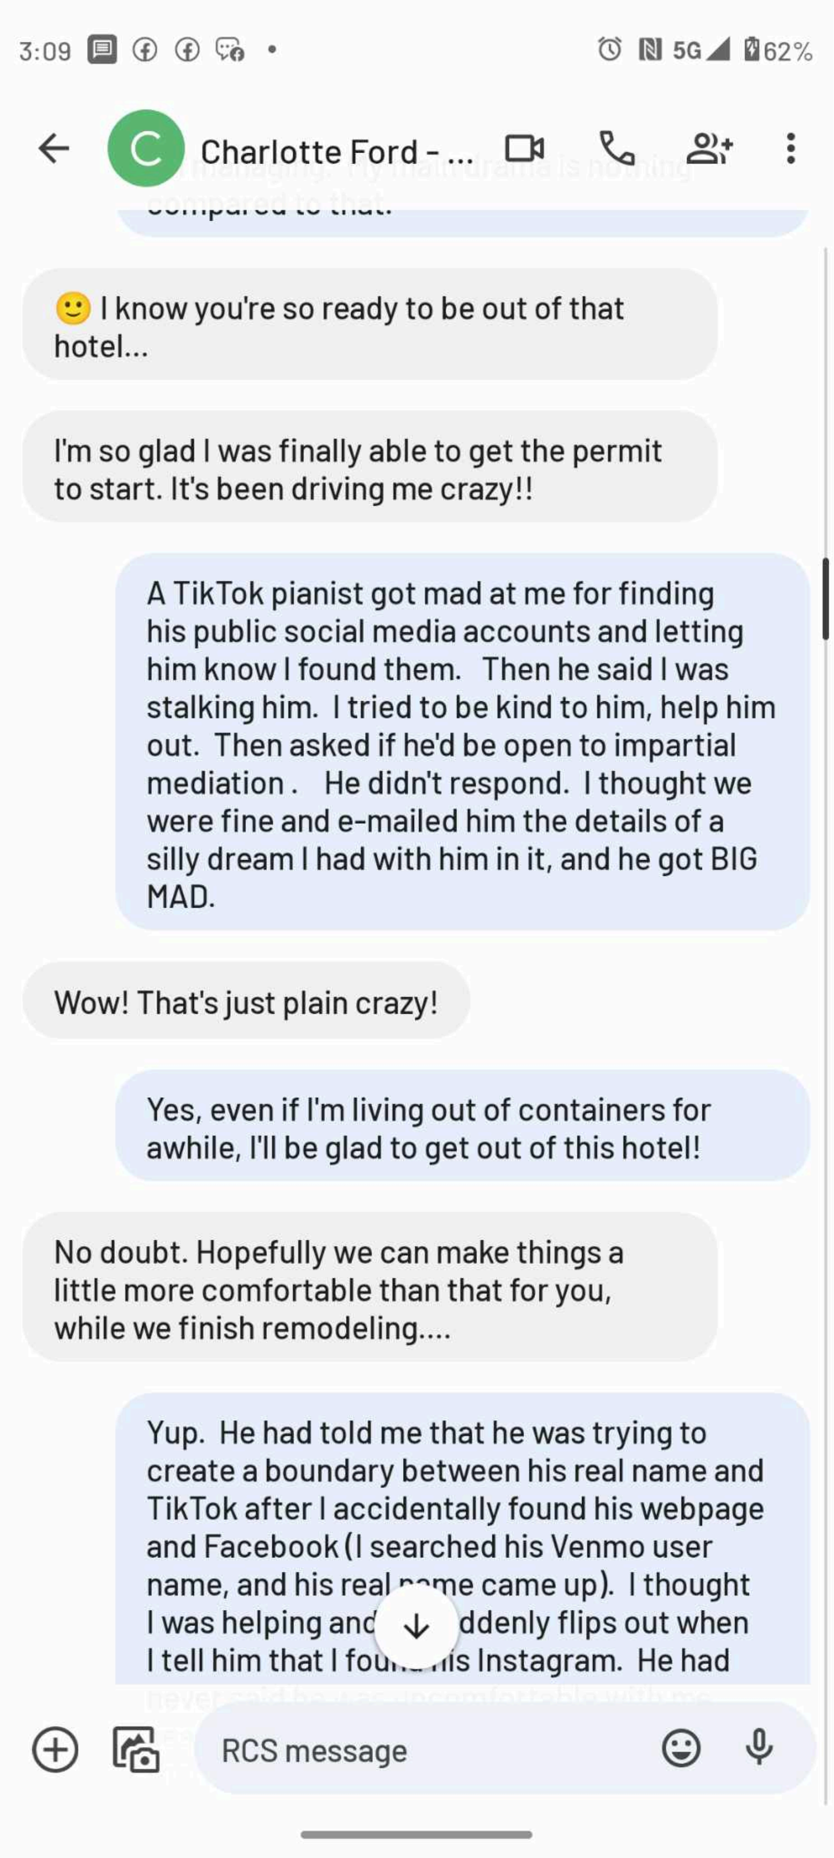
Me either!

I'm managing.  My main drama is nothing compared to that.

🙂 I know you're so rea e out of that hotel...



compared to that.

🙂 I know you're so ready to be out of that hotel...

I'm so glad I was finally able to get the permit to start. It's been driving me crazy!!

A TikTok pianist got mad at me for finding his public social media accounts and letting him know I found them. Then he said I was stalking him. I tried to be kind to him, help him out. Then asked if he'd be open to impartial mediation . He didn't respond. I thought we were fine and e-mailed him the details of a silly dream I had with him in it, and he got BIG MAD.

Wow! That's just plain crazy!

Yes, even if I'm living out of containers for awhile, I'll be glad to get out of this hotel!

No doubt. Hopefully we can make things a little more comfortable than that for you, while we finish remodeling....

Yup. He had told me that he was trying to create a boundary between his real name and TikTok after I accidentally found his webpage and Facebook (I searched his Venmo user name, and his real name came up). I thought I was helping and ddenly flips out when I tell him that I fou is Instagram. He had the musicians don't tend to get all silly

He's Jvendamusic on TikTok.

Obviously, I don't want anything else to make him upset. He's SO EXTREMELY talented. He also went off about how he didn't like a fake name that I had started calling him . . . But why didn't he just tell me at very first? It's not like I could read his mind. Guys are confusing

Haha... I don't even have Tiktok. I just thought he was like an artist or something...

He's a pianist. He even live streams his gigs from places where he's hired to play music. Before he blocked me, I would watch those, too. He also plays guitar. But he loves piano, got his degree on it. Yes, he said all of that in his TikTok lives. It's like, "Dude, if you're going to be a performer, your fans are going to search for your music."

For real though! You would think he would think that's cool!

I know! Especially since all he kept telling me was, "It's Alright. Thanks for understanding.".

I was in one of his lives and the topic of stalking came up. I discussed how I had been stalked. Then, to be completely transparent, I let him and his m rator and a few others know about how alous fiancee had me arrested in false charges of stalking and

I was in one of his lives and the topic of stalking came up. I discussed how I had been stalked. Then, to be completely transparent, I let him and his moderator and a few others know about how that jealous fiancee had me arrested in false charges of stalking and cyber stalking. He freaks out when I find his Instagram that has his music. That's being a fan looking for music. And somebody who cares about you trying to help you out. But, he freaks out and calls it stalking. And in his E-mail to me, he writes about me having a public record of stalking (thanks KPLCTV for publishing anybody who gets ARRESTED before finding out if charges are true). He obviously doesn't understand how that works .

It's not like I'm trying to find the guy. He lives somewhere in Connecticut. And even if, for some strange reason, I had his address, what am I going to do? Write him a letter?

Exactly. That's really crazy!

I swear, too, people forget what it was like when there were phone books and even when whitepages.com was completely free and you could look up addresses. Like, most people didn't make sure their information was unlisted.

Bridget Ilene Delaney - Text

Right. All of it was public information...

In high school, I'd play with my Internet friends and we'd see who could find each other's information.

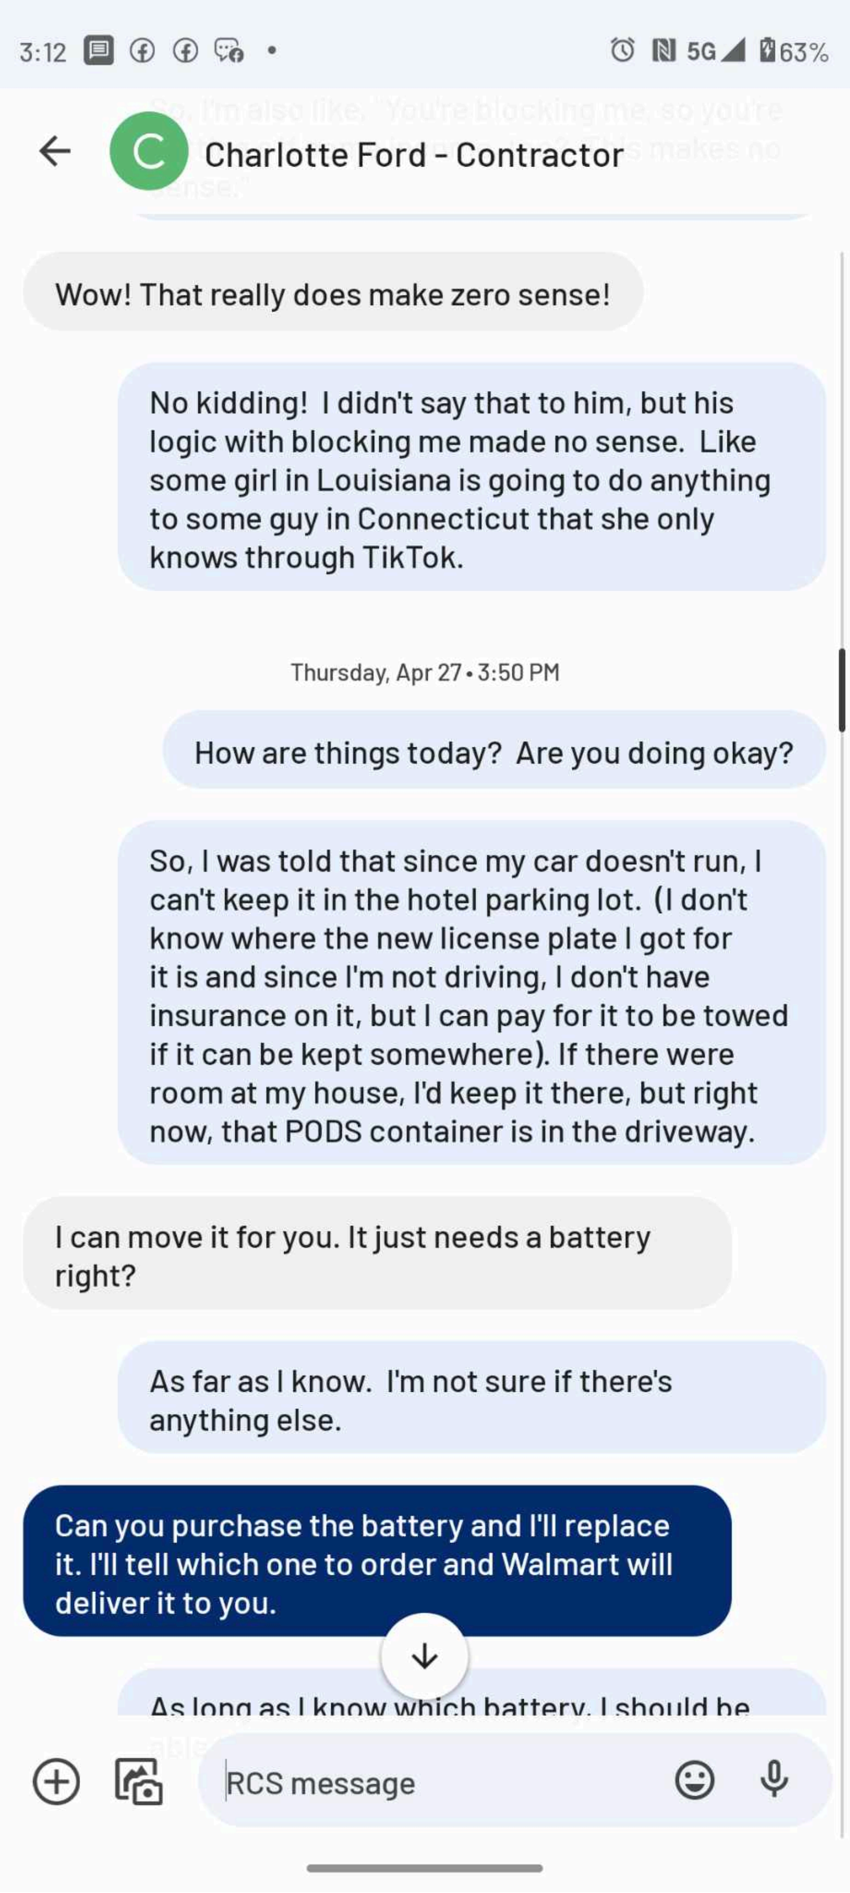
Sounds like he was just looking for a reason to complain about something.

Maybe. I'm praying that with time he'll realize I was just trying to help him out. I would give myself an entertainment budget, finally. We would get one free sing request in his lives and then we could Venmo for another. Quite a bit of my budget was for that. I didn't have to go anywhere and it made me happy.

So, I'm also like, "You're blocking me, so you're cutting off some income, too? This makes no sense."

Wow! That really does make zero sense!

No kidding! I did that to him, but his logic with blocking made no sense. Like



Wow! That really does make zero sense!

No kidding! I didn't say that to him, but his logic with blocking me made no sense. Like some girl in Louisiana is going to do anything to some guy in Connecticut that she only knows through TikTok.

So, I was told that since my car doesn't run, I can't keep it in the hotel parking lot. (I don't know where the new license plate I got for it is and since I'm not driving, I don't have insurance on it, but I can pay for it to be towed if it can be kept somewhere). If there were room at my house, I'd keep it there, but right now, that PODS container is in the driveway.

Gotcha... I think that's a good idea...it will help preserve it, to be driven sometimes.

Definitely. I know, it was sitting while they had me at Memorial. Then, at Candlewood. I don't know when my nerves will feel healed enough that I can feel good enough to drive again. Hopefully soon, but I still get worried about getting too dizzy.

I noticed a tapping noise when I was driving it earlier. It really needs to be driven to keep the oil moving through the engine and lube everything up.

Yeah. If you have any time we can go to a title place and get it inspected, I'd appreciate it.

Okie dokie. Thank you for the reminder.

Did those people leave you alone?

Oh ok. Good deal.. So the hotel doesn't want them there anymore?

I told them they don't.  I don't know what they'd do if they came back

Gotcha...

Did you ever here from Michelle?

Nope.  She's not called at all.

I haven't heard from either.. Your checkout is in the morning right?

Tomorrow morning, yes.

I had a bad feeling about things last night

What do you mean?

About the situation, especially after finding out those "ladies" called Michelle

I don't think her concerns are unwarranted. And she was really taken back by whatever said during your conversation with her. No one is always right. There is no excuse for poor behaviors. I'll call you back.

Okay. I'll wait on calling an ambulance

Why do you need an ambulance? I'm on the phone.

I have a uti. I need to go so I can get the antibiotics that I need.

Go to urgent care. They're open until 6.

We'll have to figure out things for tomorrow.  It's been scheduled for a long time that I bought a ticket to see Nunsense in the afternoon.  Ms. Pat will take me to that.  I don't HAVE to go, but afterwards, Ms. Pat and I were going to go to Messy Church.  I looked at the directions online and I'll let Ms. Pat know that I'll be right minutes from her house.

Did you ever make it back to the hotel?

Ms Pat just came and got me

Oh ok. Good. I just finished putting the kids to bed, and my brother/friend Steve has been gone since I talked to you..

She called me to check. I knew to call her if it got to 10pm.

I can't even find that symbol in my phone 😂 talent.

at least she's willing to talk. she has no right to tell you when or how to do things. you're not under her thumb in any way. you're renting a room as your private area that she's got no control over what you do AS LONG as you keep the area reasonably clean as to not call rodents, bugs, etc, no illegal activities, and are quiet and not disruptive to others.

Why did you start on her again about what happened this morning. That doesn't even make sense. No one is going to allow you to pee in your bed every night and not tend to it, wash your sheets, take a shower, or allow Radar to pee everywhere and not tend to it. Being in someone's house is WAY different. They're not required to do it for you like a hotel does. You need the help. You want everyone to recognize your disability, but you don't really want the help. I genuinely don't understand.

She didn't sa there was a deck with rickety stairs wit y wobbly hand rail on only one side in the ont of her house.

She acted like it was just a place to sit outside in the back of her house and told me sometimes she sits out there and watches her dogs. She didn't say there was a deck with rickety stairs with a very wobbly hand rail on only one side in the front of her house.
- She said she had cameras OUTSIDE around the house. She has hidden cameras INSIDE the house
- She said the halls could accommodate my wheelchair and that the doorways might be a little small. She did NOT say things about my chair not fitting.

-This was ALL discussed on the phone. See why I thought it was a good place? She was telling me tons of lies.

- Then, she lied about me afterwards. As I've said, she really hurt me by saying I abused Radar. I've NEVER once abused ANY dog.
- I didn't break ANYTHING of hers. I was SO CAREFUL in that place. She said something glass broke. That definitely did NOT happen.
- She yelled at me, "Are you on pills AGAIN?". Yes, she said, "again."
- When Ms. Pat said I was taking meds for a UTI, another rule appe d out of nowhere that was never told to me. lle insisted that she needed to know w medicines I was taking Michelle is batshit crazy and wants somebody she can abuse.

I'm certain her former roomer said that her new job in Beaumont wanted her to stay because she couldn't stand her

Also, this hotel is like a studio apartment. The only things that are different are that you can exchange your linens at the front desk instead of washing them yourself and that you can go to the front desk and ask for toilet paper, soap, and shampoo. They don't come in and replace linens and tidy up stuff. I'm living here and taking care of myself.

I know you're mad at me for standing up for myself, but I am not a slave. Not using a kitchen at certain times is different. And being video taped without my consent isn't legal.

You're not going to drag me into the middle of this. I'm not mad at anyone. I'm starting to think that you believe you don't make mistakes and have no room to grow in this life. I say that, because I have listened to every story you tell about yourself, and you are always the victim. It's pretty cool to have finally met a perfect person, but this is me letting you know that I am not a perfect person. Everyday I ask Jesus to forgive me and help me do better. I also ask Him to help me to forgive others each day and I pray they learn to do better. It doesn't really matter what I think about you Bridget. However, I'm not going to indulge the drama with you are try to convince anyone who is right and who is wrong. If I believe someone has done you wrong or is trying to harm you in anyway, I will stand up for you just as I would anyone. You're in her home, she can record anyone she wants. I have cameras in my house and I do the same. It's simple, if you don't want to be recorded don't come into my home or on my property. You chose to do both.

Was anything my hosts' fault in TN? No, it wasn't. They were very nice to me. It was just time for me to go when I left. Two out of three traffic tickets were definitely my fault and I didn't fight any of it and paid. I didn't even fight the one that was a speed trap where it was because I was going 55 when there was no sign telling me that the speed limit changed to 50. I had no problems with hotels on the way up to Tennessee. The only problem with any hotels on the way back down were two of them complaining that I had service dogs. No problems in the rooms.

Are you interested in selling your car? And if so, what is your best price for it?

Wednesday, Sep 27 • 12:46 PM

I'm not interested in selling it.

No problem. Someone stopped by my house and asked me if it was for sale yesterday evening. I saw your post cebook about needing money and thou ou might be interested now. So I thought I would ask again.

I love my little art car very much.

Well let me know if you change your mind. I know someone interested in it, if you decide you need the money instead.

Lisa Clark yeah, definitely was going to get worse. Charlotte (contractor) acted like this was my fault.

And, your explanation makes sense. But Michelle said nothing and then yells about it.

Why are you trash talking me on Facebook?

Is this really how you want this to go Bridget? A smear campaign?

I have helped you over ar r again. But for what???

Why are you trash talking me on Facebook?

Is this really how you want this to go Bridget? A smear campaign?

I have helped you over and over again. But for what???

I apologize for that. I was angry. I can't say that I'm not angry about the situation with Michelle, though. I have a friend who rents rooms (she doesn't have any available) and I should have tenant's rights. That includes a right to privacy in my own room (Michelle had a camera 8j there) and the right to sleep and clean up when I desire and not to be woken up at 7am, yelled at, and treated like a slave. Respecting the rules of keeping the room clean and respecting other rooms in the house is expected, but not invasion of my privacy. I know you don't like that, but I was not a guest. And did Michelle refund the money like she said? She said she wasn't a their. I told her that I had my checkbook and she screamed at me that she HAD to have cash. 8ve now been told that no contract and insisting cash up front is a sign of a scammer.

The only reason that I wanted to stay at that place BEFORE I saw it was because Michelle made it sound wonderful. She told me that she had a back deck with stairs and that I'd be able to get through the front door.. she told me that my transport chair would fit in her house and that just the doorways might be a little small. I know you wouldn't aylor or Sarah live in a place like that an eated like that.

I know you wouldn't let Taylor or Sarah live in a place like that and be treated like that.

She hasn't refunded me anything. That should come back to you. Not me. You don't have any idea what I think about this situation. And certainly not enough to be putting words in my mouth. Both of you aired out your differences to me and I listened to both of you and I told you and her I'm done with it. If you choose to carry bitterness, strife, and resentment over the same situation into each new day, that's on you. I'm done hearing about it, and I damn sure don't appreciate you running your mouth about me like I've just been awful to you. You can try to make me the villain in your drama, but Jesus knows that isn't even close to anything that resembles the truth.

You are not a villain. I've not gotten any refund. My friend who rents rooms is right. That's what I have to say. She has her renters sign a five page contract. Michelle is definitely a scammer. Don't you think it was weird that those "cleaning ladies" had her phone number?

And, Michelle had you on speaker phone. I heard that conversation. My feelings, experiences, and self worth and self care are important. I am not anybody's slave.

You're not the villain, but this Jesus knows stuff . . .you can stop with the B.S. because I heard it all. You weren't there to observe how I was treated. Saying, "I'm a tenant" is not "starting in on her." That's a fact.

Okay Bridget. I can see you're committed to being angry. And I know Michelle had me on speaker phone because you were responding to everything she said in a text to me at the same time. I said very little because she was ranting. I mostly listened. I hope you find some happiness in being angry, but I do not. I will no longer have this conversation with you. And Jesus knows exactly where my heart is in all of this. He is my best friend and I'm sorry you think that's B.S. take your anger and your facts to someone else who gets excited with you about being angry, but I'm not the one.

I'm not excited. I'm hurt. I'm very hurt. I was being abused and y told me to be grateful. It was only going to orse. And you KNOW that I don't abuse ar. Michelle said she

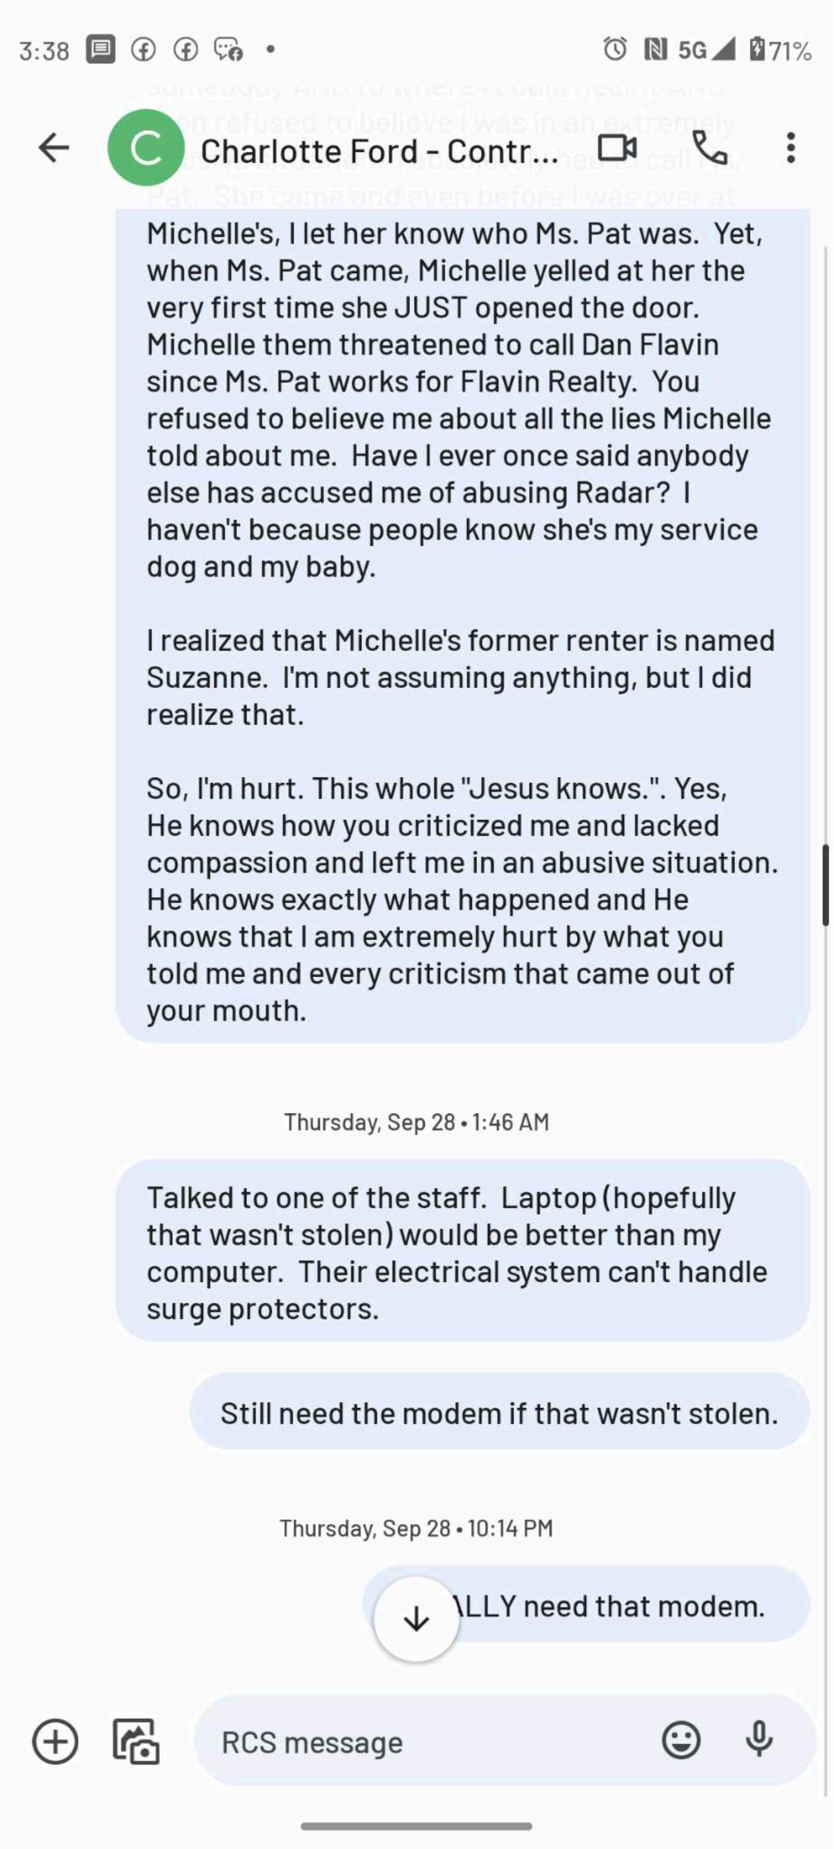
I'm not excited. I'm hurt. I'm very hurt. I was being abused and you told me to be grateful. It was only going to get worse. And you KNOW that I don't abuse Radar. Michelle said she watched me abuse her all day long and was going to call the authorities to have Radar taken away from me. She said she was going to turn the tapes over to the DA's office.

Wednesday, Sep 27 • 11:36 PM

Do you understand that I am extremely hurt and I have been ever since you told me to be grateful when I was being abused and treated like a slave? Do you understand that I heard every single bit of criticism you (who claims that you don't judge people) said about me because Michelle had you on speaker phone. I heard you say that I don't want to take care of myself. I heard you say that I don't want to take responsibility for my own actions. I heard you say that I'm the problem. I thought you cared about me and when I was left with an abusive person, you criticized me to the abuser. As a contractor and somebody that claims to care about me, to was very hurt that you acted like that house was safe for me. You're not a villain, but I'm hurt by everything. You certainly did play games because you criticized me to somebody AND to where I could hear it AND then refused to believe I was in an extremely abusive situation. I absolutely had to call Ms. Pat. She came and even before I was over at Michelle's, I let he y who Ms. Pat was. Yet, when Ms. Pat can chelle yelled at her the very first time she JUST opened the door.

Bridget Ilene Delaney - Text



Michelle's, I let her know who Ms. Pat was. Yet, when Ms. Pat came, Michelle yelled at her the very first time she JUST opened the door. Michelle them threatened to call Dan Flavin since Ms. Pat works for Flavin Realty. You refused to believe me about all the lies Michelle told about me. Have I ever once said anybody else has accused me of abusing Radar? I haven't because people know she's my service dog and my baby.

I realized that Michelle's former renter is named Suzanne. I'm not assuming anything, but I did realize that.

So, I'm hurt. This whole "Jesus knows.". Yes, He knows how you criticized me and lacked compassion and left me in an abusive situation. He knows exactly what happened and He knows that I am extremely hurt by what you told me and every criticism that came out of your mouth.

Friday, Sep 29 • 10:04 AM

I NEED my laptop and my modem. I get it. You can't apologize. I truly feel like you turned on me. How do I know you haven't thought all of those awful things about me from day one? You didn't live my experiences. My feelings are valid. My experiences are valid. I admit when I'm wrong. It's not my fault that housing companies are on the lowest tier in Port Arthur. It's not my fault that Dr. Young took advantage of me being in an altered mental state. I think I understand your position - you're better because you ask Jesus to make you a better person, BUT you can talk and gossip all you want. I've heard that from you lots. Those insurance people did deserve lots 9fv8t, but others, no. How am I to know that you weren't just acting the whole time? Maybe you should talk to people who actually know me. I get it. You DO judge how people live. You don't seem to care that you hurt my feelings. You don't seem to care that you had a complete lack of empathy. You told me to be grateful for being in an abusive situation and didn't believe that I was being abused. You don't like it when confronted with the truth of what you did. I thought you care ut me, but you proved otherwise. Words and you absolutely know that you hurt me.

Why did you start on her again about what happened this morning. That doesn't even make sense. No one is going to allow you to pee in your bed every night and not tend to it, wash your sheets, take a shower, or allow Radar to pee everywhere and not tend to it. Being in someone's house is WAY different. They're not required to do it for you like a hotel does. You need the help. You want everyone to recognize your disability, but you don't really want the help. I genuinely don't understand.

And really, you think I'd be that gross? I was sleeping taught at the LEAST to put a trash bag on a mattress and put a towel on the trash bag. Then to wash the towel. And when the people in Tennessee agreed to host me for a bit, the very first thing I did was contact them and ask the size of the mattress and sent a mattress encasement. Every day I was there started with cleaning the mattress encasement with soap and water and a cloth, then cleaning the cloth and taking my shower. In Port Arthur, I got yoga mats that I put on the bed and washed every morning.

And Radar is potty trained. Michelle called her to potty and I told Radar it was fine to go outside and potty. She was probably scared.

Michelle was using avoidance techniques when she got home on Monday. I knew she wasn't going to talk like she said. I didn't "start in on her" and certainly didn't say anything about what happened that Morning. I said two things,: we're going to talk and I'm a tenant. Neither of those is irrational.

Is the house still on track for me to move in in the next four to five weeks?

Tuesday, Oct 10 • 8:04 PM

About how much longer on the house before I can move in? I'm considering selling my car so I have more money to live and stay at the hotel if needed.

The extra things that need to be done are going add a couple of weeks.

Okay, then I think I better sell my car.

So, you can let that person know.

Okay. I will let them know. How much are you going to ask for it?

I'd rather talk to them.

Well... what I was going to tell you is I can credit you part of the difference for the additional work if you wanted to do it like that?

I'm saying that because I know a family that needs a vehicle desperately but really can't afford one.

Hmm...because, what I was going to do was bargain. I was going to start asking at $6000 because of all the money that I put into repairs on it, but go down from there.

So far out of 3 people, that have asked me, the best offer I got was $3,50

Yes,, I'll sell the car for $3,5000. I can't do credit, though. I need the money so I can live and afford the hotel

I wasn't talking about an owner finance, I was talking about taking the difference off of the estimate I emailed you. What I mean is, when/ if your grandmother sends you the money for the additional repairs, you would keep $3500 of what he sends.

I understand, but I need the money. I can't put the credit towards repairs for the house. I have looked at what money that I have , including what my Grandma Ruth sent to me. To be able to afford the hotel and live, I still need the money right now

Friday, Oct 13 • 12:30 PM

The ONLY way I am selling my car is if I get check or cash that I can put into my bank account. I'm already using money my Grandma sent me to stay in the hotel. Do YOU understand that? If there isn't a person who can give me the money for the car, you can quit bullshitting me. If there is a person who can give me money, I'm sorry for the previous statement. But I NEED the money. I can pay you little boys at a time to chip away at the cost when I have a little bit extra before the 15th of the month. But right now I NEED the money.

I don't know what you're even talking about? You said you needed the money. I made a suggestion and you said y didn't want to do that. I haven't mentio anymore. It's your vehicle. It doesn't make any difference

I will finish my obligation on your home, but you will need to find someone else to finish the additional repairs.

I told you I would let them know. I did that. They didn't ask for your number. You could have just as easily inquired about whether or not they were still interested without your whole, " you hear me bullshit, like I'm 3 years old".

You just can't handle hearing the truth about yourself.  You didn't give me their info.  You act like I'm supposed to know this stuff. So, why don't you give me their number?

I haven't cranked it in awhile. I don't know if it will crank. However, I told you months ago, that if you wanted me to drive it around to make sure it was still ran, you needed to get some insurance on it. You said that you would. Why is it on the floor and not in a trash can. Just because everyone else throws there trash on the floor doesn't mean you should.. 🤔

Like, it's literally just a tiny bit 9f stuff that fell. Because I couldn't find my new trash bags and was feeling awful last night.

Niblet's not doing well. It might be time to say goodbye. I don't like that, but also dint have the money for his care and it might not work. His kidney levels are high, he's got a heart murmur.

Awe man... I'm really sorry to hear that...

Ms. Pat is picking me up to go see him. I'll see if he's 8bterrsted in any goodies and how he seems to be reacting .

That's good, but you know the humane thing to do with those kinds of problems would be to put her down.

Oh ok...I'm sorry. I thought you were talking about Radar for some reason...

Radar is just fine. Jumping all over the place.

Oh ok. Good

I meant to give you an update last week, but time got away from me. I ordered your floors from Houston and they won't be in until next week sometime. I'll take some pictures for you today or tomorrow, so you can see where we are at.

Ah. Okay

The painting is pretty much done with the exception of a little bit of touchup, but I really like the colors you chose.

That really sucks. I'm so sorry Bridget...

He's had a good run...

Tuesday, Nov 28 • 9:46 PM

On Monday, said goodbye to Niblet. He was suffering. I literally asked him many times if he wanted to stay on earth or go to heaven and he made a strained effort to pick the finger for heaven. I've always communicated with him like that - the finger options. Poor baby couldn't walk right, wasn't able to eat a tiny piece of ham (which Radar gladly gobbled up). He was THE SOFTEST dog.

I'm sorry I haven't been in touch. Me and my kids have been sick since I talked to you last time. It's like we can't catch a break...

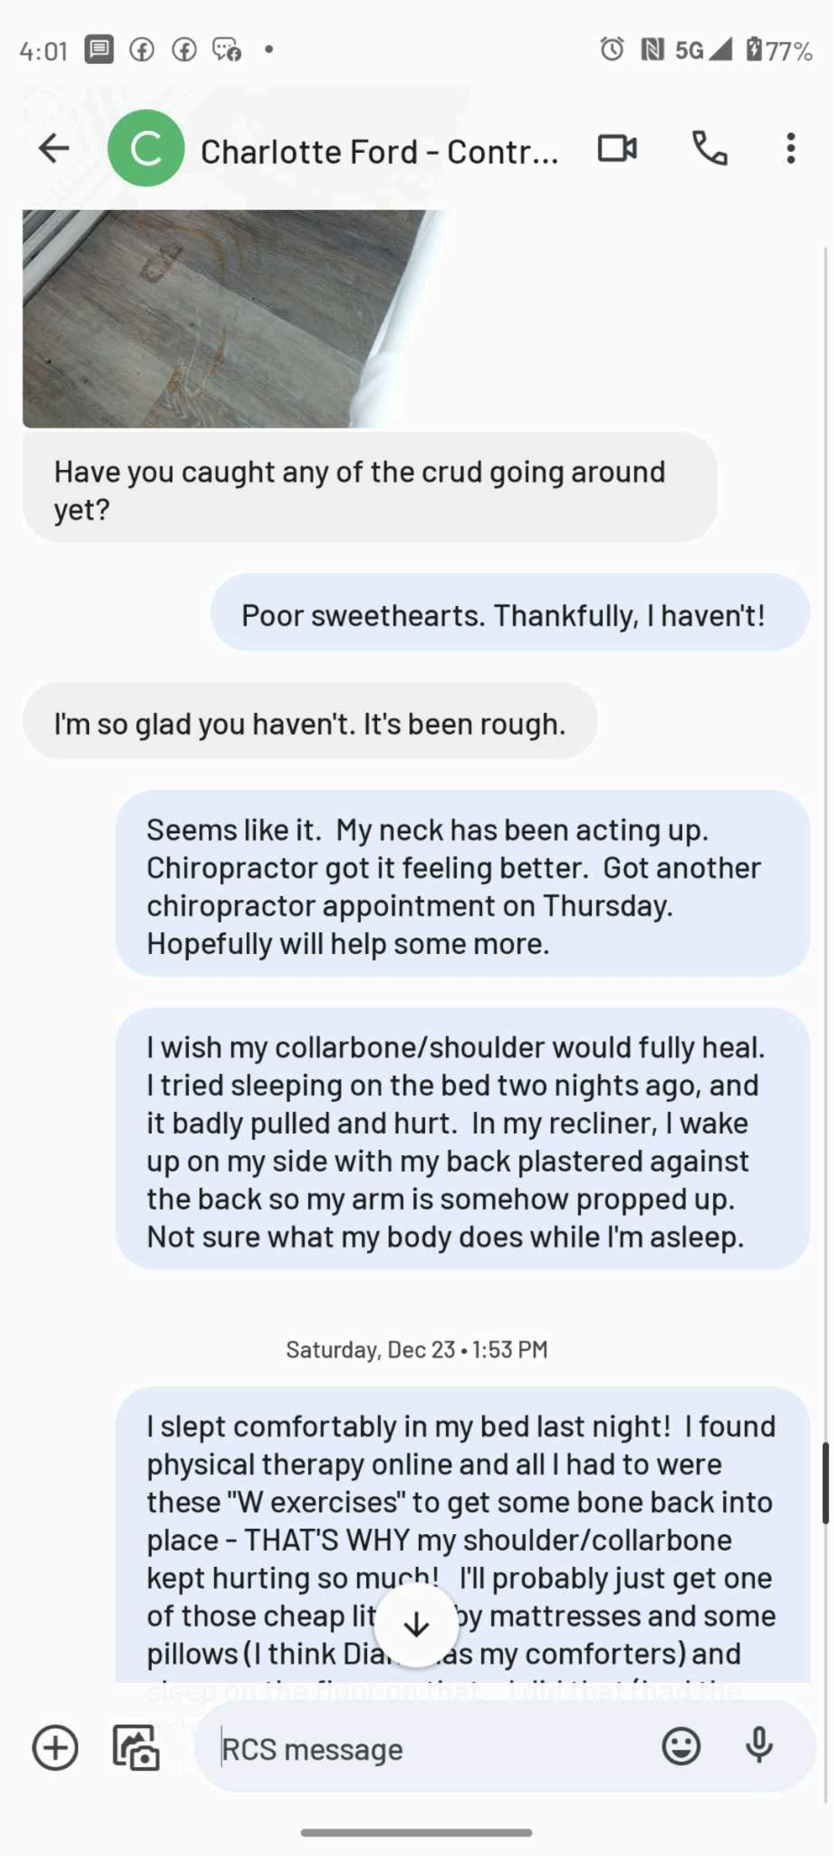
This was at 1 am this morning. Scottie has literally been sick for about 2mths now and Hunter about 5 weeks. I'm dragging...



Have you caught any of the crud going around yet?

Poor sweethearts. Thankfully, I haven't!

I'm so glad you haven't. It's been rough.

Seems like it. My neck has been acting up. Chiropractor got it feeling better. Got another chiropractor appointment on Thursday. Hopefully will help some more.

I wish my collarbone/shoulder would fully heal. I tried sleeping on the bed two nights ago, and it badly pulled and hurt. In my recliner, I wake up on my side with my back plastered against the back so my arm is somehow propped up. Not sure what my body does while I'm asleep.

Saturday, Dec 23 • 1:53 PM

I slept comfortably in my bed last night! I found physical therapy online and all I had to were these "W exercises" to get some bone back into place - THAT'S WHY my shoulder/collarbone kept hurting so much! I found physical therapy online and all I had to were these "W exercises" to get some bone back into place - THAT'S WHY my shoulder/collarbone kept hurting so much! I'll probably just get one of those cheap little baby mattresses and some pillows (I think Diane has my comforters) and sleep on the floor on that. I did that (had the baby mattress) when I fought off the German cockroach infestation that I had in my house - I needed to stay away from my bed as I had that Combat Gel near it and all the bugs would come to my bed.

I realize that it's only $300 for the last payment, so praying I'm back in my house soon. I'm trying to get students, but I'm not getting any despite the fact that I keep advertising and promoting my classes on Facebook, TikTok, and other places.

1) I communicate better in writing than in speaking. People communicate in different ways. You need to be able to understand that.
2) I've never known anybody that can be so nice (I do appreciate all of the kind things that you do and thank you for those) and so emotionally and psychologically and mentally abusive all at the same time.
3) You call me a pathological liar because that's what you don't like about yourself.
4) If you had cameras in your house, you would see how much I clean up after Mitzi and after your kids. You'd also know the goofy face and gesture I made all over your house the other day. So, there's a lie I've caught you in
5) I have NEVER touched your laptop.
6) I have NEVER touched your front door. I've never even touched the wooden gate in front of the stairs.
7) I'm very sorry that the puppy didn't make it. That's very sad. However, you told me that dogs poop before going into labor. Lola pooped on me - why - because she was going into labor. I was always trying to watch for her, but she didn't like to come inside much .
8) I have not insulted Diane on Facebook. I have no reason to insult her. Yet, you insist that I do
9) I do not place orders from Walmart every day. Where did Diane get that information? I never even did that at the extended stay.
10) You know EXACTLY what you said and afterwards you said not to take it out of context. You said, "They're dead, who gives a crap ". It was obviously emotional abuse.
11) I asked if I could tell you about what I was told about the SS[illegible]s and instead of listening to me, yo[illegible]id, "no."

11) I asked if I could tell you about what I was told about the SSI status and instead of listening to me, you said, "no."

12) Mitzi comes in your house and listens to all kinds of things that are nowhere near Christian. They are full of insults and swearing. Yet, you call musical theatre, Disney, Billy Joel, The Lumineers, and similar stuff crap. Those are pretty clean songs.

13) I don't abuse your kids. You act like the only thing that I ever did was bring them chocolate from church. I share some things with them. I also got the cheesecake. I have been sharing the cashews and pumpkin seeds with them. You told me they don't eat dark chocolate and that's what I have.

14) I was very irritated with Hunter because he was begging for EVERYTHING that I had including the dinner that I was currently eating. I am trying to eat a banana for breakfast because of the magnesium and potassium, so I was also irritated because those are my breakfasts.

15) Another dig at me - "Ash Wednesday is stupid ". I happen to find a lot of beauty in that tradition. I find beauty in the church year. It's not needed to worship Jesus, but I love it.

16) You listen to rumors about me or have a secret Facebook account where you are reading my posts.

18) Why, since you are using your own money to finish my house, is it not a priority to get it done? Also, the sooner it is finished, the sooner that I can get out of your house. If it's only cold water now? I can handle that if that's the case. I've had to live with cold water before.
19) You won't even let me see if Radar will get along with your dogs. Things would be a lot better for me if I had my service dog.
20) From the first night it was obvious you didn't really want me. I don't know what that awful thing you bought is, but it is hardly an "air mattress.". It's two feet high, a rock hard surface, and not stable. That wasn't welcoming. That was saying, "I don't want you here "
21) Another jab at me was the asking for good vibes and good thoughts along with prayers. God knows everything and those things mean people are putting positive energy or positive whatever out and God knows that.
22) I have ALWAYS listened to your stories and complaints about things. And I've always supported you. I've never gone to or called the Carlyss information station. Anything I know about you is from observing you or hearing it from your mouth.
24) I absolutely knew that the pacemaker needed to come o t you didn't once support me in tha stead, you insisted that

25) I'm honestly shocked that you are allowed to have those kids with how you spank them to where I can hear it across the house and the amount of roaches in here. Get the Combat Roach Gel. It will get rid of them and works way better than Raid or Hot Shot (though you may need to use those for the first few days).
26) I don't like using swear words like you do, but maybe this will get the message across. FUCKING GET MY HOUSE FINISHED! I'M TIRED OF THIS BULLSHITTING ME THAT I'LL BE ABLE TO LIVE IN MY HOUSE AND IT'S ALWAYS ANOTHER WEEK OR ANOTHER MONTH. Also, LET ME FUCKING HAVE RADAR. SHE'S MY SERVICE DOG AND SHOULD BE WITH ME, YOU FREAKING PATHOLOGICAL LIAR AND EMOTIONAL ABUSER.

And the people I communicate with on Facebook are real - just as real as all of the people you FaceTime and text and talk to one the phone that always made it impossible for me to simply call you and talk since your phone was always busy. Do you think I didn't want to talk to people s [illegible] there in Port Arthur with a broken colla[illegible]ne, not being able to go

And the people I communicate with on Facebook are real - just as real as all of the people you FaceTime and text and talk to one the phone that always made it impossible for me to simply call you and talk since your phone was always busy.  Do you think I didn't want to talk to people sitting there in Port Arthur with a broken collarbone, not being able to go anywhere when I had been out driving around the town before?

And the fact that you want me to make an appointment with the DMV a week from this coming Monday seems to say that you aren't planning on finishing my house in the time you've promised at all.  And that certainly goes right along with how you've strung me along since November when I'd DEFINITELY be in by the end of the month. And I went along with it. And again in December.  And then you were "shooting" for the end of January

And yeah, I know this isn't nice.  It's not like me. I don't like doing this.  But I also know EXACTLY what I am experiencing from you and it is time that I stand up for myself.  I NEVER wanted to treat anybody this way, especially not somebody using their own money to finish my house. But, the fact that you are emotionally, psychologically, and mentally abusive remains. And you making me feel guilty by yelling and preaching at me isn't nice, either.  That Lake of fire prepared for liars . . . Take a look at yourself. Take a look at ALL the lies that You've told about people (I know You've told Diane things), e a look at ALL of the gossiping that you do (You gossip a WHOLE

Take a look at ALL the lies that You've told about me to people (I know You've told Diane things), take a look at ALL of the gossiping that you do (You gossip a WHOLE LOT, way more than stuff - true stuff (I will write when I'm just writing or being silly or if it is just a rant/vent post) on FACEBOOK (not messbook as you insist on calling it). And just because I'm typing doesn't mean I'm not paying attention. Briana had Asperger's and didn't like direct eye contact. So, yes, I learned how to do things while paying attention

I don't like being this way, but it's come down to it because of how you are doing his to me. God knows the person who is lying. You know that you're the person who is lying. You are preaching at me what you need to be preaching to yourself.

If you are going to be professional, you have until the end of this month to finish my house. You and your crew need to be there EVERY DAY and finish EVERYTHING including the ramp you promised me. You are a crook. Part of that money should've been for my ALE and replacing personal items. You better believe that I'm looking in [illegible] at I can do. And you can quit lying. I have [illegible] tes that I paid you

Make my house livable BY FRIDAY so I am not homeless. You should've had my house completely fixed by the end of 2022 if not earlier. You're a thief and a crook and you know it.

You promised me that I'd be able to get to the bathroom IN MY TRANSPORT CHAIR. It doesn't even fit. You are an awful person.
